

I registered on Indiana's no-call list when it was first made available and think that it works extremely well. I do not want the Consumer Banking Association to be successful in their efforts to allow telemarketing calls.